Description

AMV have developed a range of seating to suit the needs of early years children through to adults. Seating can be used for outdoor learning, dining or social interaction and can incorporate features which encourage children to use their imagination by transforming a functional seat into a play station. The steel seating offers a longer lasting and low maintenance alternative to wood or plastic, with the added benefit of bringing life and colour to quiet play areas. The slatted design promotes rainwater runoff which means that the seating will dry quickly after rain.
